A man at Independence voted a ticket after he had carefully searched every name upon it and substituted none in their places. The right to vote was all he cared for.

A monument was unveiled at Winfield, Sunday, costing over $700. It was raised and paid for by the people in memory of a boy, Jimmy Morgan, who lost his life last summer in Walnut river. In trying to save the life of another boy.

ST. PAUL'S HOLOCAUST

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS GO UP IN SMOKE.

Fearful Collision of Express Trains at Williamsport, Pa., Which Kills Two Men—Arthur Sloan, the Murderer, Captured.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 19.—St. Paul last night suffered one of the most disastrous fires in its history, the buildings damaged being those of Griggs, Cooper & Co., wholesale grocers, and Farwell O'Zeman, Kirk & Co., wholesale hardware. The total loss is estimated at from $900,000 to $1,000,000. The losses are covered by insurance. The building was occupied by two firms and was a brick and stone structure four stories in height and has a frontage on Third street of 300 feet and on Broadway of 200 feet. Griggs, Cooper & Co. occupy two thirds of the building. The rapidity with which the flames spread, the blinding volumes of smoke which filled the streets surrounding, the cold weather and the inability of the firemen to get at the fire, rendered the work hard. In half an hour from the time the alarm was sent in the flames leaped through the roof and then communicated to the adjoining building where they made rapid progress. The firemen turned their attention to saving the floors below and by hard work for a time succeeded in confining most of the damage to this floor, though the loss in this department alone will reach fully $300,000. The flames crept downward in the hardware building through the elevator shaft and one by one other floors succumbed. The fire in Briggs, Cooper & Co.'s building at the same time turned downward to the ground floor. The fire department fought valiantly against terrible odds. The flames were under control at 4:30, but were fast consuming what remained of the stock. No definite information is obtainable as to the cause of the fire, but it originated in the packing room on the fourth floor of the grocery.

Express Trains Collide.
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Nov. 19.—A terrible passenger collision occurred at Aughenshaugh station on the Philadelphia & Erie railroad this afternoon. Two men were killed outright and one sustained injuries that are likely to prove fatal. Twelve or fifteen of the passengers were badly shaken up and bruised. Two engines were demolished and half a dozen coaches badly damaged. Two express trains running at a high rate of speed collided and the crew of one of them jumped from their engine and were hurled down an embankment. They were all badly hurt although not fatally. Lum Ray, one of the train hands and a passenger named Harry Bard were killed outright. The engineer was hurled into the air and when picked up had both of his legs broken and received other injuries from which he cannot recover. The tracks were torn up for a considerable distance and debris scattered in all directions. The two ponderous machines were locked together in an iron grasp and almost totally demolished. The tenders were thrown about and reversed from their respective engines and either side of the track was strewn with pieces of machinery and broken cars.

Baldwin's Murderer Caught.
BLAIR, Neb., Nov. 19.—Sheriff Harriman quietly slipped away from Blair Friday evening and came home this morning at 9:35 with Arthur Sloan, the Fontanelle murderer. He found him husking corn for a farmer named Balen, three miles west of Slater, Ia., in Boone county. Harriman, with a deputy from Des Moines, went direct to the farm and secreted themselves in the farmer's house. After Sloan did his chores he came in to wash and eat supper, and the officers collared him before he had time to resist. A reward of $700 was offered for his arrest.

The revolver that he did the shooting with was found in the barn and brought back to the prisoner. Sloan admits doing the shooting, but says he was mad and did not know that he had killed anyone, as he had not heard. He says he did the shooting in self-defense. Sloan said he staid within a half mile of the house at Fontanelle all the day that the shooting occurred and the next day staid near Fremont.

Florence's End is Near.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 19.—At noon W. J. Florence's physicians had a consultation, at the conclusion of which it was stated that the patient was in an extremely critical condition. The physicians have but small hopes of his recovery now and every preparation has been made for the end. The great actor was stricken with pneumonia last week as the result of a severe cold, which was not given proper attention. Police Inspector Conlon of New York, his brother, and Commodore Tooker, his brother-in-law, are at the bedside of the prostrate man.

Sank in the Mississippi.
DAVENPORT, Ia., Nov. 19.—The steamer A. J. Whitney struck a rock reef above here and sank today. She is badly damaged but may be saved. Her value is $50,000.

Enormous Quantities of Grain.
BURLINGTON, Ia., Nov. 19.—The worst grain blockade ever experienced west of the Mississippi river is in full force here. Orders were received to-night from Chicago to absolutely stop all shipments of grain to Chicago and to refuse all offers of grain for shipment to Chicago or eastern points. This leaves over 1,300 cars of grain on the Iowa side tracks of the Burlington system alone, and other roads are in as bad a fix. Local railroad officials claim that eastern roads are unable to handle the grain out of Chicago.

A St. Louis Disaster.
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 18.—The most disastrous fire which has visited St. Louis in many years started in the furnace room of the large dry goods house of Penny & Gentiles, on the southwest corner of Broadway and Franklin avenue, about 4:30 this morning. The watchman immediately turned in an alarm and then a second and third within ten minutes. The flames spread so rapidly that a general alarm was given which brought out the entire department, but before the engines arrived Penny & Gentiles, the Sonnenfeldt Millinery company, the mammoth establishment of the Famous Shoe and Clothing company, occupying an entire block, and a four-story building on Broadway between Franklin avenue and Morgan street were in flames, and in two hours all the walls fell in and nothing was left but ashes and twisted iron girders.

The fire at 10 o'clock had burned itself out and two or three engines were throwing water on the ruins to quench the flames that here and there were fanned into activity by the strong wind. The firemen deserve great credit for their noble work, considering the intensely cold weather, which was increased tenfold by a heavy wind.

During this fire the handsome residence of Captain John A. Scudder, in the aristocratic portion of the city, was destroyed with its costly furniture. The loss will exceed $75,000; fully insured.

The fire throws about 1,500 people out of employment, a majority of them being in the service of the "Famous" company, one of the largest boot and shoe houses in the west. One life was probably lost, Night Watchman Jasper, employed by the Sonnenfeldt Millinery company, not having been seen today. Four other men were badly injured. The entire loss is estimated at $1,500,000.

Promises a Revolution.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 18.—The plate glass industry promises to be entirely revolutionized. Robert Spens, a Minneapolis man, has just received letters patent on an invention which, according to the claims of the inventor, will reduce the cost of making a square foot of plate glass from seventy cents to ten cents. To perfect his idea has cost Mr. Spens twenty years of close study and fifty thousand dollars in cash in making the necessary experiments. His invention consists in rolling the plate of glass on a perpendicular instead of a horizontal surface. It is rolled the exact thickness required, instead of having to be ground down and polished. It comes out finely polished and free from waves or chills and a surface of soapstone prevents its being scratched or marred while cooling. The rollers turn out two sheets simultaneously and the production is very rapid.

Unruly Indian Soldiers.
PRESCOTT, Ariz., Nov. 18.—There has been a serious time here the past few days, owing to the fact that the troop of Apache soldiers have been able to obtain since pay day, all the liquor they wanted. For the past two nights fights have been numerous and at one time serious trouble was apprehended, as the Indians broke for their arms and ammunition and were with difficulty prevented from obtaining them. Seven of the Apaches are in the guard house and as many more of them and several white people are in the hospital. The order transferring this company to another station the latter part of this month gives much satisfaction to the citizens.

Death From Exposure.
NEBRASKA CITY, Nov. 18.—Thos. Egan, aged 73, was found dead on the floor of his residence on Fifth street this morning. About three weeks ago Mr. Egan's wife died, and since that time he has been very dependent, refusing to eat, but drinking considerably. He retired last night and evidently rolled out of bed to the floor where he was found this morning. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from exposure and personal neglect. Mr. Egan was one of the oldest settlers of the city, coming here in 1858, and was a familiar figure on the streets.

Think Them Criminals.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—A letter from Valparaiso, Chile, dated October 7, received today, speaking of the hostility of Americans, says the supporters of the new government are much incensed at Minister Egan for the protection of refugees, who, their organs assert, are cruel criminals who have committed barbarous crimes, equal to those of pirates, and who now use politics as a screen to hide their iniquities. The correspondent says rumors are in circulation to the effect that the new Chilean minister to Washington will intimate, in a friendly manner, that the withdrawal of Mr. Egan would be agreeable to Chile.

Natural Gas Discovered.
FORT MADISON, Ia., Nov. 16.—Natural gas was discovered at Stronghurst, Ill., twenty-five miles east of here, yesterday, by a farmer digging a well, at a depth of 125 feet. It burns with a strong flame.

And It Rained.
CROTON LANDING, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Several men employed by the fire-works manufacturing concern arrived here this morning for the purpose of making rain. They brought with them an outfit of explosives which were to be fired in the clouds. The first was with 200 pounds of explosive. Immediately entering the clouds, there was great rift, and a perfect shower of water began falling, such an outpouring as would fill every stream to overflowing within a few hours.

A HERMIT'S CAVE.

CURIOUS ABODE OF AN UNKNOWN MAN.

He is Particularly Fond of Literature—Excavating in Ohio Brings Forth a Valuable Relic of the Mound Builders.

KEOKUK, Ia., Nov. 17.—A short distance west of Alexander, Mo., lives a man between 60 and 60 years old who has been leading the life of a hermit for thirty years. His home is in a cave under a large rock in the side of a steep hill. His only companions are books, periodicals and papers, which he keeps plentifully. His cave is neatly furnished with shelves containing many of the works of the most noted authors. He refuses to divulge his name or his past life further than to say that his family was one of wealth and influence in a southern state prior to the war, and that his father served with distinction as an officer in the confederacy. He is educated, refined, and unusually well posted on current events. He takes a great interest in the world from which he has withdrawn. Asked why he adopted such a life, he said it was simply a matter of choice, not because of failure in business, love or ingratitude of friends or relatives. He receives few visitors, but those he does receive are delightfully entertained.

Interesting Discoveries.
CHILLICOTHE, O., Nov. 17.—Mr. Warren Morehead and Mr. Cresson, who have been making excavations in the numerous mounds near this city in the interest of the world's fair, have been rewarded by finding one of the most interesting relics of the unknown mound builders yet discovered. It was on the Hopewell farm, seven miles west of the city where, in a mound about twenty-eight feet high and from 200 to 500 feet in diameter, they excavated the massive skeleton of a man, encased in copper armor. The mouth contained genuine pearls of large size, but much damaged. Around the neck was a necklace of bears' teeth. At the side of the armored skeleton was another, supposed to be that of a woman. Messrs. Morehead and Cresson think they have found the king and the queen of the mound builders.

Cremated Alive.
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—A fatal rear end collision between two Panhandle freight trains occurred just west of Burgetstown, about twelve miles west of this city, at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Fourteen cars of perishable freight, with the caboose and engine of the second train, were derailed and piled up in a heap, the mass of wreckage taking fire and burning up. Brakeman Hardy of this city was caught in the wreck and cremated alive. Thos. Whitesides of Allegheny, engineer, John McFarlan, fireman, of Cadiz, O., on the second freight, received probably fatal internal injuries, being rescued from the burning debris. The loss will reach $100,000.

It Was a Sad Home Coming.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 17.—Mrs. Joseph Zachl, who came from Germany to join her husband here, arrived with two dead babies. The first of the twins died soon after the mother left Baltimore. The second died this morning when the train was but a short distance out of Chicago. On arriving at the Northwestern depot the mother with the two little babies were taken to the home prepared by the father on Third street.

Feats of a Somnambulist.
SIOUX CITY, Ia., Nov. 17.—John Ross was found by the police early this morning wandering in the streets in a fit of somnambulism. He had removed the screen from a window in the second story, climbed down a porch and traveled nearly a mile in his night clothes over sleepy walks before he was awakened. He has performed strange somnambulist feats before.

A Horrible Suicide.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 17.—William Ruddy, aged twenty-two, returned home this morning and, horrified at finding his mother was drinking to excess, determined to end his existence. He poured coal oil over his clothing, set fire to them and then stabbed himself just over the heart. He died in horrible agony in a short time.

Killed By a Woman.
DURANGO, Cal., Nov. 17.—Maggie Montgomery stabbed John Gross in the heart last night in the Phoenix variety theatre in this city. Gross died instantly. He was to have been married today and this aroused Maggie's jealousy. Maggie is a hard character and this is her second victim. She is now in jail.

A Boiler Explodes.
JOLIET, Ill., Nov. 17.—One of the boilers in the A. H. Wire Company's works exploded this morning, killing the fireman, Frank McSwain, and wrecking the building. The loss is $75,000.

Cashier Bead Suicided.
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 17.—Geo. L. Beard, cashier of the Cheyenne National bank, which closed Friday, killed himself in bed this morning with a revolver. Beard was despondent over the failure of the bank. The United States examiner has charge of the bank and says it will pay all claims in full.

Quadruplets Born.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 17.—Mrs. Edgar George of Bunker Hill, Ind., this morning gave birth to four fully developed girls. The father is a farmer.

The Anarchists Again.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Within a bomb's throw of the Haymarket, armed anarchists tonight again met the police. The result was an ignominious defeat for the reds. A mass meeting of the most radical element was announced to be held this evening in Grief's hall, on West Lake street, a place celebrated in the annals of Spies and Parsons' followers. The decision unexpectedly displayed by the authorities last night in compelling the anarchist gathering in West Twelfth street to hoist the stars and stripes had a disconcerting effect, and at the last moment tonight it was decided to make the gathering secret and to admit only a few of the most trusted spirits.

Suddenly, at a signal given by the detective in the meeting, the police made a raid. Fifty men in plain clothes guarded the rear of the building and allowed no person to leave. Inspector Lewis and Captain Mahoney, at the head of 100 uniformed officers, marched to the front door, taking the meeting completely by surprise. "Throw up your hands," shouted Inspector Lewis. A the command 400 hands went into air and the officers commenced a search for weapons. Those found to possess revolvers or other arms were placed under arrest, while the others were hustled into the street and told to leave the vicinity at once. Most of the prisoners have been released on bail.

Fell Nineteen Stories.
CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—James Charles broke the record today with a frightful fall of nineteen stories. He was a terra cotta operative and was at work inside the roof of the new Masonic temple. He and a companion named John Wilson erected a temporary scaffold and it was on this that Charles was standing. A small piece of timber had been placed against the braces to prevent them from falling. Below was nothing but space, and as the framework gave way Charles made a frantic effort to save himself. He failed, however, and went down with the broken timbers. The distance was covered in about three seconds. Every bone in his body was crushed and his corpse presented a fearful spectacle. Wilson was standing a few feet back from the shaft and saved his life by clinging to the side supports of the scaffold. It was intended to hold an inquest today but a postmortem was necessary, because Wilson could not be found after the tragedy occurred. It is said that he and Wilson quarreled just before the scaffold broke.

The Act of a Maniac.
OMAHA, Nov. 16.—Last night a tragedy was enacted at the Salvation Army barracks in this city. Private Nettie Biedler shot and mortally wounded Captain Hattie Smith and immediately suicided. It was just after 6 o'clock in the evening and the army's forces had gathered at the barracks for the purpose of making its usual parade prior to services. The presence in Omaha of the official heads of the army in France and America, La-Marche, Booth-Chibborn and her brother, commissioner, Ballington Booth, had gathered hither all the forces of this division, which includes Iowa, Minnesota, the Dakotas and Nebraska. For four days the army had held daily and nightly demonstrations, and the work was seemingly meeting with great success. The real motive for the fearful double crime is not so clear as it might be, but the indications point to a rather queer combination of jealousy and semi-religious frenzy. Captain Smith is dying.

Train Robbers Frustrated.
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 16.—An attempt to rob the Missouri, Kansas & south bound train No. 3 at South Canadian, I. T., was frustrated by the officials of the road last night. A telegram was sent to Muskogee informing the officers that the Daltons were seen in the vicinity of South Canadian hiding in the river bottom. An extra was run in front of the regular train and guards placed in the postal and express cars. It is believed that one or two of the gang got on the train at Muskogee and signalled the robbers to not attempt the robbery as the train was guarded.

Better Than Advance Money.
WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 16.—While Jack Glasscock, the short stop of last season's New Yorks, was excavating for the foundation of a new residence at North Front and Maryland streets yesterday, he unearthed an old oyster can containing $2,000 in gold and silver coin and mouldy greenbacks.

A Woman of Nerve.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 16.—Frank Alix, aged twenty-seven years, was married on Thursday to Mrs. Robert Kilpatrick, a widow of eighty years and a bank account of $50,000. The couple have gone to Hamilton on a wedding tour. This is the fifth bridal tour Mrs. Alix has taken.

Americans Arrested.
BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Nov. 16.—A private telegram from Rio Grande City, says Captain Burke, commander of Kingsford, and Deputy United States Marshal Jordan went to Cerralvo, Mexico, to enquire about the progress of the revolution there. They now telegraph that they are arrested.

Society Circles Exerted.
BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 16.—Society circles are much excited over the announcement that Miss Henrietta, youngest daughter of late Stephen Crowell, former president of the Phoenix Insurance company, had married Nick Eben, the man of all work employed at Dr. Yates' sanitarium at Lakewood, N. J., with whom it is said she became infatuated while sojourning at that place. The lady was a favorite with her father. He left her half his fortune estimated at $2,000,000. The antecedents of Eben cannot be ascertained.

A BOLD ROBBERY.

A TRAIN ON THE C. M. & ST. P. HELD UP.

Dynamite Bombs Used to Demolish the Express Car—The President's Proclamation for the Observance of Thanksgiving.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 14.—The midnight train from Chicago, on the Milwaukee & St. Paul, was robbed by masked men near West Union junction at 1 o'clock this morning. Masked men with leveled guns commanded the engineer and fireman to run the train to within one mile from West Union junction. Here he was commanded to stop. Both men were ordered to stand down out of the cab. They were marched to the express car under guard and then the work of blowing open the express car began. Several bombs, the fireman thinks they were, were thrown into the car, and the explosions were terrific and must have awakened every passenger on the train, but nobody appeared on the scene. After glancing hurriedly about the car the robbers fastened their eyes on two iron boxes of the American Express company. The robbers brought the fireman in a little later and went through all the boxes. They compelled the express messenger to hand over the keys. They then dumped the boxes out on the road bed. One of the robbers kept the messenger and assistant covered with a musket all the time and the other robber superintended the operations of the fireman.

The train was held over half an hour, the entire efforts of the robbers being centered on the express car and not a passenger being molested. The fireman thinks there were half a dozen men guarding the coaches, however. The most experienced detectives in the employ of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, assisted by the sheriff of Racine county and a large posse of men, up to a late hour tonight were unable to track the robbers who stole about $4,000 from the American express car near West Union junction last night. Several clues were followed up by them, none of them resulting in anything, however. The two combination safes were found intact and had been left behind by the robbers. They were evidently frightened away before they had a chance to blow the safes open. The quantity of nitro-glycerine which they left behind would have sufficed to open ten more safes equally as strong. Claim Agent Barr, of the St. Paul road, believes the robbery was the work of Chicago crooks.

The Regular Proclamation.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The following was issued this afternoon by the president of the United States:

A PROCLAMATION.
It is a very glad incident of the marvellous prosperity which has crowned the year now drawing to a close that its helpful and reassuring touch has been felt by all our people. It has been as wide as our country, and so special that every home has felt its comforting influence. It is too great to be the work of man's power, and too particular to be the device of his mind. To God, beneficent and all-wise, Who makes the labors of men to be fruitful, redeems their losses by His grace, and the measure of whose giving is as much beyond the thoughts of men as it is beyond His deserts, the praise and gratitude of the people of this favored nation are justly due.

Now, therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, president of the United States of America, do hereby appoint Thursday, the 26th day of November, to be a day of thanksgiving to God for the bounties of His providence, for the peace which we are permitted to enjoy them, and for the preservation of those institutions of civil and religious liberty which He gave our fathers the wisdom to devise and establish and the courage to preserve.

Among the appropriate observances of the day are rest from toil, worship in a public congregation, the renewal of family ties about our American firesides, and thoughtful helpfulness towards those who suffer lack of body or of spirit.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington this thirteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and sixteenth.

[Signed:] BENJAMIN HARRISON.
By the President:
JAMES G. BLAINE, Secretary of State.

A Bloodthirsty Class.
MADRID, Nov. 14.—Anarchists of this city met last night and had a banquet and made speeches in memory of the Chicago anarchists. The same programme was followed at Barcelona, Cadiz, and other important cities of the peninsula. On Sunday last there were violent demonstrations of an anarchistic character in various places in Spain, and in Cadiz attempts were made to destroy public buildings with dynamite. Several persons accused of taking part in the outrage were arrested and imprisoned.

Fumigated the Train.
CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—On information from the Michigan board of health the local authorities this evening stopped the Grand Trunk passenger train at Blue Island junction, fumigated all the cars, baggage, etc., and vaccinated the passengers. Six cases of smallpox had been discovered among a car load of emigrants at Port Huron, and while the patients were promptly returned to Canada, it was thought best to take all necessary precautions here.
